'French Troops In Berlin Needed To Make Germany Pay' -- Morganthau

Few Americans are such profound students of European affairs as Henry Morganthau, war ambassador to Turkey. His diplomatic record and his official and private investigations abroad make him unusually qualified to discuss foreign affairs.

Here is a striking interview with Morganthau, given in London, upon completion of his latest tour of Europe. This is a different view--told in unequivocal terms.

By Milton Bronner

London, Sept. 27.--Henry Morganthau, former American ambassador to Turkey, believes Germany is deliberately procrastinating in reparation payments and that her financial illness, is a diplomatic fraud.

This is his conclusion after another long European tour of study:

And this is his forecast:

"France is right. She has made up her mind Germany can and must pay just reparations. And if necessary, French drums will beat French flags will fly, and French troops will march into Berlin!"

Morganthau acquiesces France of militarism, and conflicts Germany of dawdling.

"Make no mistake about it -- the Germans will pay," he says. "They are seeking by delay, by every means in their power, to avoid payment."

"Just as prominent people sometimes have a diplomatic illness when they don't want to receive unwelcome visitors, so Germany is having a diplomatic illness with intention to deceive."

"The Germans are not good sports. Having aimed to saddle their idea of government upon the world, and having been prepared to make ruthless exactions if they won, they are now whining and crying because they have been soundly beaten."

"Give them a little more time and they will at last learn that the French are in earnest. Each is prepared to see to it that the demand Poincare makes in the name of the French nation shall be fulfilled."

Morganthau thinks the real rebuilding of Europe cannot begin until the Germans settle down to making payments. And he says this cannot be accomplished in a hurry.

HENRY MORGANTHAU

"Peace, work and thrift are the only things that will help Europe," he says. "You can't find any magic formula to repair the damage of war, and you can't build on the old foundations."

"England is the only European nation which seems to have taken the war lesson to heart. She is rebuilding on new foundations. She has largely disbanded her armed force, she is taxing her people heavily so she can pay as she goes; she is not grinding out tons of paper money."

"France is on a different plane -- completely isolated -- in Morganthau's opinion. But he says France cannot be accused of militarism when the 50-year-old fear of German power is considered."

"Left alone, France has determined that her safety shall not again be put in jeopardy. She wants security for at least 100 years. She wants the security of contracts upheld, and that is what the Treaty of Versailles is -- a contract to do certain things."

"France wants the judgment of Versailles enforced. She would prefer to bring this about in concert with her allies, but if necessary she will do it alone. Therefore, at present she cannot and will disband her efficient army and her wonderful general staff."

By keeping these intact she insures the payment of what is due her."

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY NOVEMBER 4

Date Advanced Weew From Armistice Day To Be Nationally Celebrated This Year.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.--Advancing the date of the national "Forget-Me-Not Day" from Armistice Day to Saturday, November 4, National Commander C. Hamilton Cook of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, who will sponsor "Forget-Me-Not Day," explained the change in date by the fact that friends of the wounded and disabled soldiers made the request that a special day be set aside, when all thoughts and activities can be devoted to the needs of the men who sacrificed so much on the battlefields of France and Belgium during the great war. Every town and city in the country is to participate in "Forget-Me-Not Day" on November 4. Captain Cook announced that citizens' committees will be formed everywhere to direct the activities of the day and to have charge of the funds and their distribution. All of America's wounded and disabled veterans of the great war will be provided for in the national campaign, the proceeds of which are to be used for national legislation in behalf of the disabled veterans of the great war, club houses and summer camps, employment and rehabilitation problems, relief work and numerous other activities in the interest of the disabled vets. Banks will act as depositories of funds secured from the sale of "Forget-Me-Not" on November 4.

Citizens' committees will direct the day's campaign, assisted by sub-committees of women war workers, ladies' organizations and other agencies which contributed much to the comfort of the American service men during the great war. In many cities and towns the ladies' organization will make the paper and cloth "Forget-Me-Not" that are to be distributed on November 4, and in other localities the bed-ridden soldier patients and disabled veterans now in hospitals, are engaged in making the flowers that will be sold on the streets of communities all over the country on "Forget-Me-Not Day."

Preliminary arrangements have already been started in many cities for the campaign that is to benefit the cause of America's wounded and disabled veterans.

ELECTRIC FAN WILL RID BEDROOM OF MOSQUITOS

By Associated Press. Chicago, Sept. 27.--If you are subject to boring mosquitoes a home remedy is offered which tests have proven is more effective than swatting and other methods of extermination.

When bothered in your bedroom at night, remove a screen from the window, place an electric fan inside the room about six feet from the window facing it, and turn on the current.

The stiff breeze will draw the mosquitoes into its path and will be too strong for them to repel. They will be blown from the room and will be unable to fight their way back against the air current. In a short time the entire room will be cleared of the insects.

This method was devised by a Western Electric engineer after watching the method used to remove the last traces of air from vacuum tubes used in radio.

SENATOR STANLEY OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR REED IN MO.

Kentucky Solon and Robinson of Oklahoma Speak--Former Says Democratic Platform Stands For Rights of People

NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION ASSAILED BY BOTH MEN

By Associated Press. Mexico, Mo., Sept. 27.--The Democratic campaign in Missouri opened here today with addresses by Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Senator Stanley of Kentucky. Both assailed the national administration for its "incompetency and inefficiency."

Stanley stressed that freedom and liberty were being trampled upon and a bureaucratic government being established in this country. He characterized Senator Reed as a "fearless defender of human rights," and urged the return to the constitution, which, he said, guaranteed to every person equal rights. He declared that ever since the time of Thomas Jefferson the democratic platform stood for protecting the rights of people as provided in the constitution, but now thirty thousand agents and inspectors were employed by the federal government and "every business man finds an inspector at his elbow, a federal sleuth at his heels, houses searched, homes outraged and public highways dappled by a multitude of agents, ignorant of and indifferent to the law of the land."

PROHIBITION FREELINGHUYSEN'S PRINCIPAL CAMPAIGN ISSUE

By Associated Press. Raritan, N. J., Sept. 27.--United States Senator Frelinghuysen, renominated by the Republicans of New Jersey said today that prohibition would be his principal campaign issue, but not the only issue in his campaign against Governor Edward Davis, democratic senatorial nominee.

WINNERS OF WORLD SERIES 15 YEARS

New York, Sept. 27.--Since 1905, when the former National Baseball Commission has created a post-season series has been held between the teams which won the championship in their respective leagues, resulting in 10 victories for the American and seven for the National.

Whether this world's series supremacy denoted a better brand of baseball in the younger league has been debated every winter in the Old Stove League with facts dug from the record books to prove and disprove the same assertions--and, as former vice-President Tom Marshall used to say, with the same result and no casualties.

A table showing World's series winners and losers with the games won, lost and tied, follows:

CONSTRUCTION ON SCHOOLS SLOW

Lack of Materials Holds Back Work --West End and Noetown Near Finish Outside.

Lack of materials continues to hold back the construction of the new schools in Middlesboro. While shipments in some lines are better, those in others are worse, and the general freight congestion and difficulties are little changed.

Four carloads of brick were received at the high school yesterday and one by the ward schools today, and this will allow for more work now. The grade school in the West End has its exterior practically finished and the Noetown school will be up next week by use of the last shipment of bricks. Their completion is held up by the fact that the plaster and flooring cannot be obtained. R. L. Brown, contractor, said this morning that he had had a load of plaster on the road a month and he did not know where it was now.

Only the foundations of the East End and Binghamtown schools are in and no work is going on at these places because there is no material for them. Mr. Brown says that all of the schools will be pushed to completion as fast as material is received to finish them.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Daniel Epps of Pennington Gap and Henry Hensley of Rose Hill, arrested in Allen's Lumber Co. lumber yard night before last were tried in police court yesterday and given $104.25 fine and ten days each for carrying concealed deadly weapons. Each of the men had a .45 revolver with him. Alec Dawson of Pineville and Ben Hamilton, colored, were each fined $14.25 in police court this morning for being intoxicated.

BOYS EXPECT STIFF FIGHT IN FIRST GAME, SATURDAY

Great interest is being shown by persons in and out of school in the first football game of the season, to be played here with Junction City High School Saturday afternoon. This will be the opportunity for Middlesboro to see just what the local high school boys can do.

The boys have been practicing hard for the last week and are getting in pretty good shape. Coach Porter had definitely decided on most of the first eleven, but the lineup for Saturday will not be announced in full until Friday. The Junction City team is reputed to be a fast one so the home team will probably have a stiff fight. Middlesboro merchants are going to be asked to decorate for this game in the school colors, yellow and white, and to lend what ever help they can to the boys in encouraging them to ward victory. A large crowd is expected at the game.

COAL SITUATION NOW IMPROVING

Southern and L. & N. Both Beginning To Supply More Cars To Local Mines.

That the coal situation in this section is improving was stated this morning by E. S. Helburn, president of the Log Mountain Coal Company. The difficulty has been with the inability to get enough cars from the railroads to ship the coal mined as labor has been plentiful since the mines signed the Cleveland agreement.

The mines have been running only one day a week most of the time the last two months, but they are expecting a better condition and preparing for a larger volume of work. This is attributable to two factors: First, the railroad commission is forcing the roads in the north which have L. & N. cars, to send these cars back, and so the L. & N. is getting a larger supply on hands; then the Southern Railway, which was almost out of commission as far as freight shipments went, is getting back on its feet and beginning to send cars in to the mines which it serves.

Four of the Log Mountain Company's mines, Yellow Creek, Mingo, Hignite and Bennett's Fork, are served by both the L. & N. and Southern. Major Helburn said that when a mine had two rail services that way, it was allowed 50 per cent amount of cars, or 75 per cent of the regular amount from each road.

TEACHERS URGE STATE LAW TO REGULATE DANCING

By Associated Press. Cleveland, O., Sept. 27.--A concerted movement for a state law requiring all dancing teachers to pass an examination for a state license is being urged by the Ohio Association of Teachers of Dancing. Members say this will raise dancing standards by barring the teachers of wriggles and twirls.

KIWANIS DELEGATES RETURN FROM DIXIE HIGHWAY MEETING

Judge J. E. Evans and Dr. Jacob Schultz have returned from Lexington where they went to meet with the board of directors of the Dixie Highway Commission in an endeavor to get that highway routed through Middlesboro. The board gave no definite promise in regard to the routing saying that the matter would be taken up later. Judge Evans and Dr. Schultz returned by way of Louisville and Frankfort.

F. P. SCALES WANTS CITY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Plans are under way now for a big city championship flight, golf tournament, here next month. F. P. Scales, president of the Middlesboro Country Club, says that nothing definite will be done in regard to the matter until replies from letters he had sent out to members are received.

Mr. Scales plans that this tournament should last perhaps four days, and that trophies to the value of $150 or $175 should be made up by the local members for the event. This would allow for various kinds of prizes, one for each day, for each flight, consolation prize, and prizes for different kinds of feats.

MIDDLESBORO DELEGATION TO ATTEND JONESVILLE FAIR

A delegation from Middlesboro is planning to attend the Lee County Fair at Jonesville this week, especially Friday, which is to be the big day there. Live stock shows, races and exhibits of farm produce are among the things of interest at this fair. Middlesboro people can go down on the morning train and get back at night. Few of them will motor through as the road from Rose Hill over to Jonesville is reported to be in a very bad condition.

No Bloodshed As Yet In Sudden Insurrection of Formidable Forces

--Revelling Troops Have Ships And Guns.

AMERICAN VICE ADMIRAL LONG GOES TO CONSTANTINOPLE

By Associated Press. London, Sept. 27.--Greece is in the throes of a revolution which already has caused the downfall of the government and according to several Athens reports, forced the unhappy Constantine to abdicate in favor of the crown prince, thus losing the throne for the second time in five years.

The revolutionary movement, which is said to be led by General Gonatas, is making headway in all directions but thus far without reports of any bloodshed. The insurrection, while not altogether unlooked for, broke out in formidable force, with unexpected suddenness among the vanquished troops brought home from Smyrna and among the soldiers in Saloniki. Strangely enough the two revolts seem to have different objects, one aimed at the overthrow of the government and the other at the defence of throne against the Turks.

By Associated Press

London, Sept. 27.--Central News dispatches from Athens early this morning says King Constantine signed his abdication decree without reservation.

London, Sept. 27.--A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionists have left the Island of Mytilene off the coast of Smyrna and are proceeding towards Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources, received here.

Athens, Sept. 27.--An ultimatum from the warship Lemnos which arrived on the peninsula southeast of Athens with revolting troops, demanded the dissolution of the national assembly and the formation of a people's cabinet friendly to the entente.

Paris, Sept. 27.--A Havas dispatch from Athens says the insurrectionists have five destroyers and naval seaplanes and two warships. It asserts there have landed troops southeast of Athens and General Papakolas has been sent to stop them. It adds that martial law is proclaimed and that the Athens garrison has joined the revolutionary movement.

Paris, Sept. 27.--American Vice-Admiral Andrew Long has gone to Constantinople to direct the naval operations should they become necessary in participation with the foreign squadrons it was stated here today.

By Associated Press

Washington, Sept. 27.--Paris dispatches in reference to Vice Admiral Long were not understood here. They indicated participation of American warships against the Turks. This is not contemplated as a part of the American policy toward the Near Eastern problem. The navy department said Long apparently was going to Constantinople as an observer.

MICHAEL COLLINS ALWAYS FOUND TIME FOR HIS DOGS

By Associated Press. BELFAST, Sept. 27.--It is recorded that in the midst of all his preoccupation and anxieties of the past six years, the late Michael Collins found time to keep up his one great interest outside the establishment of the Irish nation.

This was the breeding of his beloved "Kerry Blues," a type of dog that has become very popular in the past year or two. Even when on the run and later during his bitter fight with de Valera, Collins is said to have found time occasionally to attend to his hobby.

YOUR POWERS

Lela M. Cargill, clerk in the New York postoffice, takes from Nina E. Holmes of Detroit, the title of champion letter sorter of the world.

Miss Holmes attracted attention by sorting 20,610 letters in eight hours, or nearly 43 a minute.

Miss Cargill sorts 30,125 letters in eight hours, which is better than one a second. And she sorted the first 25,500 letters without pausing. Then she stopped for a cup of tea.

Sorting a letter means picking it up, reading the address, recalling the postal route to reach the address, then tucking the letter into the proper bag.

Miss Cargill is 26 years old. She has been a postal clerk only three years.

Miss Cargill, you reflect, must have wonderful co-ordination of body and mind. A brain that works with lightning swiftness has automatically perfect teamwork with a body that perfectly obeys her rapid brain.

The body is a collection of machines each trying to work co-operatively for the good of all. It is a more perfect system of government than man has been able to devise.

Miss Cargill, judging from her work, has what scientists would call an extraordinary well-balanced system of endocrine glands.

In the so-called efficient person, the body glands speed up when needed and slow down when the energy of the body is required by other glands.

In a boy who is growing too rapidly, as a result of abnormal activity by the pituitary gland in the brain, the other glands slow down and surrender part of their share of the body's energy. With most of his energy devoted to growing, the lad is apt to be otherwise languid.

Or, for example you suddenly are in danger, which requires a quick reserve of energy. The word is telegraphed through the blood. The message is sent out by the adrenal glands, which stand guard as mobilizer of reserve energy. Other glands slow down, as if saying, If the adrenals fail in this emergency, we all perish.

The heart responds to the adrenals and rushes blood to the arms or other parts of the body that have to meet the danger. This rush of blood is why the face goes white in a time of peril.

The crisis met and conquered, the blood rushes back to normal distribution through the body. The other glands come to life. The sudden change makes the person, calm in danger, half-collapse after it is all over.

HIGH RENTS

Rapidly mounting rents are driving writers and artists out of their homes, Greenwich Village in New York.

A small room, formerly a horse stable, is turned into a studio at $200 a month rent. This is said to be a typical case. Such a sum obviously is beyond the means of the artist or writer struggling for recognition.

Why don't the artists and writers move to the country? you ask. They say they have to be near their market to get orders for their work.

A great fuss is being made over the situation by the Authors' League of America. The fuss will help advertise Greenwich Village and attract more tourists to its carefully staged tea rooms, cabarets and other points of commercialized Bohemianism. This will bring more money to the village. Then rents will go up again.

Too bad, of course, that rents are high for the temperamental residents of Greenwich Village. They will not attract much sympathy, however, because nearly every one in New York and other big cities is also in the clutches of high rents.

The bigger and more congested our cities grow, the more it becomes obvious that the real problem of city

Bible Thought For To-day

MERCY ASSURED:—He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.—Proverbs 28:13.

life is rent.

It is rent that has accomplished the use of elevators, tall buildings, small rooms, and the vanishing of the big yard that should be around every home.

Each year the rent problem in cities grows worse.

Many theories and suggestions have been advanced, to reduce rents generally. When all is said and done, high rent is the penalty of living in cities.

It follows, logically, that the way to escape from high rent is to get out of the city. Rapid transit is the route of escape. And the ideal form of rapid transit is the airplane.

When airplanes become fool-proof, safe, speedy, compact and cheap, cities will become collections of factories, theaters and shops. People will live far out in the country and travel back and forth by planes.

The greatest value of the airplane eventually will be in bringing cheaper rent. Obviously, it is to the selfish interest of every American to do everything in his power to assist the development of flying craft.

The flying machine will free the city man from high rent, just as the railroad and auto have freed the farmer from isolation.

Responsibility
A mother in an eastern city snatches her child from the hands of a neighbor for $5000 damages, claiming that they taught her child to swear.

Rare cases like this are attempts to fix responsibility at its source. The idea could be applied many ways. It should be.

The man who, crazed by bootleg liquor, commits a murder, usually is not as guilty as the criminal who sold the liquor. The drug vendor, by all rules of common sense, is responsible for most of the crimes committed by drug addicts.

Insisting to crime is on a par with insisting to riot.

Journey
The New Yorker who started for San Francisco is a prairie schooner, drawn by oven nearly two years ago, reaches Colorado. He should arrive at his destination early in 1924.

Editorial writers then will point out how he could have made the trip in a few days by airplane. Much will be said about the wonders of modern transportation, compared with grandpa's day.

However, if you had your choice, you would prefer the slow trip behind oxen, camping along the way. Most of us are speed maniacs, due to our nerves, though we know that real happiness is not by speed. People were happier before they had modern wonders.

Foresight

When high tariff goes into effect, consumers discover that the tariff duties are added to what they pay for imported goods. That sets the new prices, and the seller who brought goods in ahead of the tariff in most cases can pocket the duty and extra profit.

Several hundred million dollars worth of merchandise have been rushed into the United States and stored in warehouses ahead of the tariff. This is foresight, the cunning ability that makes poor men rich and rich men richer.

IT ISN'T OVERWORK

By DR. R. H. Bishop
So much is heard nowadays of overworking.

This business man is all run down from overwork, or that college girl has ruined her health from too much study.

So the stories run.

Most people, however, who are overworked are, properly speaking, simply the victims of bad air, bad diet or worry.

They believe that because they are tired, it must be the work that is hurting them. Work seldom hurts anyone who is physically fit. That is the one big essential. Keep every organ and muscle in your body in trim and you will be able to stand by any amount of work.

People who get all run down from overwork and then are forced to take vacations, naturally improve in health while resting, but if they had taken care of themselves at work no forced vacations would have been necessary.

When the body has a terrible load of unphysiological habits to carry, additional work is a strain.

Ailments and disabilities are attributed very commonly to the less important instead of the most important causes. Consequently, the average health seeker makes the error of correcting his daily regime in some non-essential respect. Great and permanent results require the adaptation of an all round, well-balanced regime.

Don't say you have not time to take care of yourself. Simply form hygienic habits, exercising all you can, sleeping eight hours every night, and eating plenty of vegetables and fruits and your health will take care of itself.

Summer resorts are deserted except for the last beaux of summer.

MAKE RUSH FOR NEW MOTOR GAS

New York, Sept. 27.—Substitutes for gasoline are still being used to relieve millions of the quibble of their life earnings.

That the number of victims has not been reduced in spite of recent disclosures, is maintained by Dr. Raymond P. Bacon, formerly head of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research of Pittsburgh.

"In investigations of methods of charlatans and crack-brained inventors in the petroleum field," said Dr. Bacon, "it has been generally found that whatever motor fuel there was produced was put into the apparatus by some sleight-of-hand process."

Motor fuel from peat has been the most popular goal of inventors. A useful oil can undoubtedly be obtained from peat, is Dr. Bacon's view, but it would cost several dollars a gallon. This has been the chief bait for the quibble and many have been caught in the net. Other kinds of fuel also have been discovered, but they have all turned out to be impracticable or sheer frauds.

Some of the inventors of gasoline processes foist upon the public a mixture of kerosene, to which is added but a little ether. The effect of the ether is to give a quicker ignition, but as this fluid is very costly, motor fuel of this kind really costs more than gasoline.

Undoubtedly, cheaper substitutes for gasoline will be made eventually. At the present time there are mixtures of alcohol and tar oils which, although more expensive than gasoline, have many good qualities.

It should be borne in mind that all the large petroleum refining companies are spending many thousands of dollars in research work to find a lower priced motor fuel. Any inventor could interest the large corporations and reap a rich reward in royalties if he could convince them that his process would make gasoline at 18 or 20 cents a gallon.

Any person who is considering the purchase of the patent rights of a process for making cheap gasoline will do well to consult a petroleum chemist.

SLEUTHING! New British Chief Is Real "Izzy Einstein"

By Milton Bronner

London Sept. 27—England's Sherlock Holmes is a regular Izzy Einstein. He looks the part of anything—but he is a detective.

There is scarcely a big murder, a baffling mystery or fraud case here which George Nicholls isn't called in to solve. Quiet in manner, good looking, a bit in dress he comes swaggering on the street a typical Englishman. On his way back he may be a boisterous, over-dressed, unkempt, reputable looking foreigner. Close calls, quick change of disguise and fast work are all in the day's work for this young sleuth who is the brains of Scotland Yard. For his remarkable success in rounding up England's worst criminals he has just been made chief inspector of the central office which is the most important branch of the government investigation service.

It took Nicholls 23 years of hard plugging to get this high office, but he got there because he is known as—"Izzy" thinker.

TRIFLING TRAVELOGS

IN DETROIT

THEY ALL TALK MOTOR CARS

By W. H. Porterfield

In Detroit, capital of the motor world, the folks talk automobiles in the hotel lobbies just as they do literature in Indianapolis, politics in Ohio and art in Chicago.

You can't get away from it, even in the fastest car, for wherever you may land they are still discussing the same old problems, or some new phase of it—which is the same thing.

And I have seen more passe silk shirts around this town than I ever saw before all put together. But they were heirlooms from the boom days of '17 and '18.

There are a lot of pawnshops in Detroit, and they are full of gold watches and diamonds and near-gold watches and other things that aren't near anything but junk.

Last night I strolled down the street and passed eight jewelry auctions.

Detroit is one of the most beautiful and attractive cities in America. Green Park, right in the heart of the city, is a bit of woodland with fountains and gardens fair enough to make one long for the country—for a few minutes anyway. Maybe it's just newish sentiment, like that which makes tears come to the eyes of the burglar as he hears "Home Sweet Home" in the bedroom, but at that I have always thought the little parks in Detroit's downtown were just about the most delightful things of the kind in any country.

Detroit is too big now and it is still growing. The last census put it ahead of St. Louis and Boston and Baltimore, and I suppose in another generation they'll have two million or more. Too bad. They are tearing down the fine old homes along Woodward avenue and putting up skyscrapers and warehouses and office buildings in their places.

Just across the river at Windsor is a show that has gathered in more than a million dollars in real money in one month.

The Ontario government is strong on prohibition—excepting beer, which of various alcoholic content, seems to flourish mightily. The provincial government is in partnership on the races to the extent of 5 per cent on all bets, and this rakeoff is now clearing up $29,000 a day NET. Figures show that 34 per cent of the bet remains in the hands of the bookies and government—some percentage, we'll say.

It costs only 1 cent to get to Windsor, so most of the poor puts get back all right. I met one at the hotel last evening. He was an Iowa real estate man up here for his vacation, but he said he had lost so much he would have to wire home for railroad fare.

Gee, it sure does cost a lot to enjoy yourself, doesn't it?

Detroit is really of French origin and like everything upon which that wonderful nation has put its stamp, the city still retains many traces of that far-off occupation.

Louis Joliet, La Salle, Hennepin and many other famous Frenchmen are included in the list of those splendid vigorous men who sailed down from Montreal to the site of Detroit and beyond, in the 17th century.

And it was in 1701 that the French soldier and explorer Cadillac founded the town, which thus became the oldest settlement of importance in the middle west of our country.

At least 70 per cent of the population of Detroit is foreign-born or of foreign parentage! What do you think of that? There are Poles, Hungarians, Russians, Polish Jews, Armenians, Serbians, Italians, Bulgarians, Rumanians, and I don't know how many other nationalities.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse. I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Celebrating Their Birthday

* These four tiger cubs in the Washington (D. C.) zoo are showing their joy at reaching their first birthday. Pretty husky for one year old, aren't they?

The L. & N. Railroad Brings Good Northern Farmers to Better Farm Lands In the South

For many years the Louisville & Nashville Railroad has conducted an educational campaign of solicitation among farmers all over the North, in a systematic effort to induce them to move South. By personal representatives and through the printed word, in such forms as magazines, farm papers, booklets, folders, letters, etc., this railroad has painted the attractions of the South to the farmer who lives in the colder sections of the North and Central West.

Tangible evidence of the success of this work is seen in happy homes and flourishing communities all over the territory served by the L. & N.; this work marking pioneer development in these sections and adding untold millions to the general community wealth.

The Industrial and Immigration Department of the L. & N. Serves Both the Farmer and the Community

This Department renders a distinct service, both to the farmer and to the community in which he locates. Its agents are not satisfied until the farmer has found the exact piece of land he requires and has been scientifically instructed how to make and market a profitable crop.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad has nothing to sell except its services as a common carrier. It does not own land, mines or other things in which the public is invited to invest. Its Industrial and Immigration Department is conducted entirely for the good of the community and the individual.

There are many Northern localities, as compared to the delightfully temperate conditions that exist throughout the South. Any of these booklets, or other information will be gladly furnished on request of the Industrial and Immigration Department of the L. & N., at Louisville, Ky.

No Discontinuation of Passenger Service Notwithstanding the severe conditions under which railroads have been obliged to operate during the past two months, the L. & N., up to the present time, has not found it necessary to discontinue any of its passenger train or sleeping car service.

What Loss Of One Player May Mean In A World Series

WHILE trying to figure out the dope on the chances of the Giants, Yankees, or Browns being the 1922 world series champion the thought occurred to me, how much of an upset in the calculations would the loss, through injury of a man like Sisler from the Browns, or Kelly from the Giants, or Pipp from the Yanks lineup mean.

Rather odd, but a fact nevertheless, that just previous to a great many world series, some member of one of the contesting teams has been rendered hors de combat.

As far back as 1905, Rube Waddell was incapacitated as far as baseball was concerned in a friendly rough-and-tumble straw hat breaking affair.

Rossman took a forced leave of absence from one of the Detroit-Cub affairs in 1907 or '08.

Johnny Evers broke a leg just previous to the 1910 Cule-Athletic series.

Stuffy McInnis, Rube Oldring, Fred Merkle, Red Smith, Jack Berry, the late Ray Chapman, and Babe Ruth are other notables I recall offhand who were forced out of whole or part of world series because of injuries.

And in the majority of cases the absences were members of the losing team.

What of it? Just this: The success of every championship team I believe is due primarily to teamwork.

There are lots of good ball teams where teamwork is not so obvious but very few championships are won without it.

I know that the absolute harmonious co-operation of the Athletics won the success from 1909 to 1914.

A good ball team might be likened to a well-oiled piece of machinery.

The various players represent the cogs. Failure to hustle, looting, or otherwise not putting forth one's best efforts to win, is apt to throw the whole machine out of gear, and spill the works. Just so, take out one of the important cogs, and the effective ness of your machine is impaired. It happens occasionally but not often that in substitutes shine even better than the regular. One instance, George Rube White Sox who substituted for Leo Thumppel was the series star in 1906.

The loss of one of the regulars from the lineup of a world series contesting team is not only an actual loss, but is apt to have an important psychological effect as well.

Confidence has a big part in a team's success. Shake this confidence by the removal of one of the tried members and the thought arises: Will so and so be able to fill his shoes? There is an occasion doubt, and as this doubt continues, confidence ebbs with the one team, and grows with the opponents.

The threat that a man like Ruth or Sisler must always carry for the opposition cannot be made as formidable by any substitutes. No one realized that more than the Giants in those last three games last fall.

Considering the fact that he was a pitcher, George White performed most creditably at first base for Fred Merkle in a part of the 1913 Giant-Athletic series. But he was not nearly so formidable at bat, and that is where the Giants suffered and the Athletics gained.

Janvin displaced Barry in the Red Sox-Brooklyn series and did very well. As far as substitutes go this year, if any are necessary, the Giants appear to be the best fortified. Johnny Rawlings can fill any infield position most acceptably. For pinch hitters the Yanks present a likely lot, including Baker, Elmer Smith and Hoffman.

For the Browns Jimmy Austin, after son and Past Grand Patriarch of Kentucky Odd Fellows.

Mr. Cooke expects to move to Central Kentucky when his term as postmaster expires. He is given a splendid administration of the postal affairs of our city during his term, courteous and accommodating to all. He will give a reception to all postal employees this afternoon.
